

INFLUENZA IMMUNIZATION INFORMED CONSENT - EMPLOYEE

Influenza is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses spread mainly by coughing, sneezing and close contact. The illness can be mild to severe, and at times can lead to death with 80% of influenza deaths impacting adults age 65 and older. CDC recommends influenza vaccination for all healthcare personnel to reduce the spread of influenza, especially to vulnerable populations and to help ensure you are protected from contracting the illness and to minimize its effect. All influenza vaccines in the United States are anticipated to be Trivalent influenza vaccines formulated to protect against A(H1N1) virus, A(H3N2) virus, and B/Victoria virus. Please consult your physician/healthcare provider if you have questions or concerns.
